CORRESPONDENCE.

Communications have been received from Messrs. Howe; Theophilus Browne; Cundill; P. Valentine; R. Pritchard, and Mrs. Mary Hughes; from W. P. S.; Euelpis; T. C.; I. W.; I. L.; and Te Tace.

The Extract from a Sermon on the Death of Sir Samuel Romilly, by Dr. T. S. Smith, was mislaid at the Printing Office, but shall appear in January.

The Papers under the head of "The Nonconformist," will be resumed in the next Number and continued, it is hoped, without further interruption.

A Correspondent, whose letter arrived too late for insertion, wishes to suggest to the Committee for the late Dr. Thomson's Monument, that the best memorial of that excellent man would be the erection of some Unitarian place of worship, which he thinks would be more gratifying to the spirit of the deceased, and a more characteristic tribute of respect, than a "little vain marble." He proposes that the subscription should be commenced anew with this object.

D. on Baptism, is too late for the present Number.

We are sorry to inform our respected Correspondent Philalethes (R. W.) that the Three Essays on Predestination have never come to hand. We will, however, institute a new inquiry at the Publishers. We have in our possession, a Manuscript on "The Immoral Tendency of what are called Evangelical Principles, by a Layman," which we shall return to the Publishers, with our opinion, in a few days, but this we apprehend is not the Communication of Philalethes.

In the first Number of the next Volume we hope to present our readers with a Memoir of the late venerable Dr. Cogan, accompanied with a Portrait. The same or some early succeeding Number will contain also a Memoir of the late amiable and lamented Mr. B. Goodier.

The "State of Monthly Affairs" is excluded from the present Number, by the great mass of temporary matter and by the ample Indexes. Hereafter, that article will be dropped, in order to make room for a new arrangement of Intelligence, which, now that Peace is happily re-established in Europe, will it is hoped bear less of a political character. We cannot report the discontinuance of the political article, without expressing our obligations to the Friend, who has compiled it from the beginning. His and our joint and sole object was to promote the spirit of Humanity and Peace.

We recommend to our Subscribers to give orders to their Bookbinders to inclose in the Volume some of the Bills stitched up with the successive Numbers, as some of them are in reality historical documents of importance. We refer particularly to the Lists of Subscribers and Statements of Accounts, in relation to new Chapels, and to the papers on the "Wolverhampton Case."

We beg once more to recommend Subscribers to complete their Sets without delay, as few more copies are printed than are sold, and at the expiration of the year these are done up into Volumes. Such of the former Numbers and Volumes as are not out of print may be had of the Publishers; of whom also may be had the Monthly Repository Portraits, at One Pound the Set, consisting of five. At considerable pains and expense, Two or three complete Sets of the Monthly Repository, in Thirteen Volumes, have been completed, and may be had of the Publishers, neatly half bound at Eleven Guineas the Set.
