

THE ENGLISH WOMAN'S JOURNAL.

35-2
HAY
XXX
VOL. XII.—FEBRUARY, 1864.

LXVII.—SEPTEMBER.

LXVIII.—OCTOBER.

LXIX.—NOVEMBER.

LXX.—DECEMBER.

LXXI.—JANUARY.

LXXII.—FEBRUARY.

LONDON:

PUBLISHED BY THE ENGLISH WOMAN'S JOURNAL COMPANY, LIMITED,

AT THEIR OFFICE, 19, LANGHAM PLACE, REGENT STREET, W.;

AND FOR THE COMPANY BY

JARROLD AND SONS, 12, PATERNOSTER ROW.

3 5 D

HEAVY

NORWICH:
PRINTED BY JARROLD AND SONS.

Contents of Vol. XII.

SEPTEMBER.

NO.	PAGE
I.—Women and Politics	1
II.—A Season with the Dressmakers; or, Experiences of a First- Hand. By Jane Le Plastrier	7
III.—The Father and the Mother. A Poem. Translated from the German. By S. H.	25
IV.—House Building	26
V.—Woman's Work in the World's Clothing. I. By Asterisk ...	30
VI.—Agnes Bernauerin. By H. Schütze-Wilson	37
VII.—The American University for Women	43
VIII.—The Inward Eye. By L. S. B.	47
IX.—Our French Correspondent	51
X.—Notices of Books. (Poems; by Jean Ingelow.—Shakespeare Characters.—A Guide to the Unprotected relating to Property and Income, &c., &c.—Books of the Month)	54
XI.—Open Council	69
XII.—Passing Events	72

OCTOBER.

XIII.—Apropos of Political Economy. By Bessie Rayner Parkes ...	73
XIV.—Agnes Bernauerin. By H. Schütze-Wilson	81
XV.—Gone Before. A Poem. By Christina G. Rossetti.	91
XVI.—Woman's Work in the World's Clothing. II. By Asterisk ...	92
XVII.—Schools in Palermo	99
XVIII.—A Season with the Dressmakers; or, Experiences of a First- Hand. By Jane Le Plastrier	104
XIX.—Mr. Vojta Naprstek's Lectures in Prague. By A. W. S. ...	113
XX.—Charmouth Convalescent Home. By Julia Luard	119
XXI.—Letter from America. By A. T. H.	126
XXII.—Facts and Scraps	131
XXIII.—Notices of Books. (History of Christian Names.—Observations on the Sanitary Condition of the Army in India; by Florence Nightingale.—A Month at Gravesend, &c., &c.)	134
XXIV.—Open Council	141
XXV.—Passing Events	144

NOVEMBER.

XXVI.—The New Antioch. By M. D. C.	145
XXVII.—Woman's Work in the World's Clothing. III. By Asterisk ...	151
XXVIII.—Common. A Poem. By Isa Craig	161
XXIX.—Marie Antoinette and the Court of France. By L. S. ...	161
XXX.—The Village Shopkeeper. By S. E. Braun	170
XXXI.—"The Cornhill" on Men and Women	178
XXXII.—A Season with the Dressmakers; or, Experiences of a First- Hand. By Jane Le Plastrier	181
XXXIII.—Permanent Invalids. By F. R. R.	187
XXXIV.—A French Story for Working Men	192
XXXV.—Letter from Abroad. By Rosamond S.	201
XXXVI.—The Social Science Congress at Edinburgh	202
XXXVII.—Notice of Book. (A Lady's Visit to Manilla and Japan) ...	211
XXXVIII.—Open Council	213
XXXIX.—Facts and Scraps	216

DECEMBER.

NO.	PAGE
XL.—Antioch College. By M. D. C. ...	217
XLI.—Middle-Class Education. By the Rev. J. P. Norris ...	228
XLII.—Christmas. A Poem ...	234
XLIII.—Marie Antoinette and the Court of France. By L. S. ...	235
XLIV.—Woman's Work in the World's Clothing. IV. By Asterisk ...	243
XLV.—The Treatment of Female Convicts. By Mary Carpenter ...	251
XLVI.—Weather-Bound: A Story of Queen Anne's Days. By L. F. P. ...	260
XLVII.—A Season with the Dressmakers; or, Experiences of a First-Hand. By Jane Le Plastrier ...	267
XLVIII.—The University of Cambridge and the Education of Women ...	276
XLIX.—Notices of Books. (Winter Weavings, &c., &c.) ...	280
L.—Open Council ...	286
LI.—Facts and Scraps ...	287

JANUARY.

LII.—Political Economy and Christianity ...	289
LIII.—Schools in Palermo ...	296
LIV.—The New-Year Cry of the Fallen. A Poem. By E. H. R. ...	303
LV.—Miss Lily. A Poem. By John Churchill Brenan ...	303
LVI.—Overworked Dressmakers and the Short Hours' Bill. By J. B. ...	305
LVII.—Weather-Bound: A Story of Queen Anne's Days. By L. F. P. ...	308
LVIII.—Female Middle-Class Emigration. By Jane Lewin ...	313
LIX.—Needlewomen at New York. By Bessie Rayner Parkes ...	318
LX.—Woman's Work in the World's Clothing. V. By Asterisk ...	325
LXI.—"Female Medicine." By M. D. C. ...	336
LXII.—House Building ...	341
LXIII.—Notices of Books. (The Life and Labours of Vincent Novello.—The Anti-Slavery Cause in America, &c.) ...	347
LXIV.—Open Council ...	354
LXV.—Facts and Scraps ...	359

FEBRUARY.

LXVI.—A Review of the Last Six Years. By Bessie Rayner Parkes ...	361
LXVII.—Women and Co-operation ...	368
LXVIII.—Friends Again. A Poem. By Herz ...	376
LXIX.—Woman's Work in the World's Clothing. By Asterisk ...	377
LXX.—A Well-Authenticated Ghost Story. By S. E. Braun ...	387
LXXI.—Accomplices ...	394
LXXII.—Causes of the Distress among Single Women. By Jessie Boucherett ...	400
LXXIII.—Notices of Books. (Speeches of Wendell Phillips.—Notes on Hospitals; by Florence Nightingale), &c. ...	409
LXXIV.—Open Council ...	423
LXXV.—Facts and Scraps ...	427