TO THE IMPERIAL CHARTISTS.

MY DEAR FRIENDS—In a leader in last week's Star, the Editor, in speaking of my joining the Repeal Association, says that he is glad that I got a "rap on the knuckles" for my over zeal. It is not the first I have had a rap, I fear, will be the last. I however entirely agree with the Editor, that it was merited; while I think a majority will pity those who gave it more than him who received it.

I am now going to write about our own affairs; and I have the consolation to know that when I write for men engaged in a honest struggle for liberty, instead of a "rap on the knuckles," I receive correction in the mildest form in which sound reason and good feeling can administer it.

WE MUST NOW RE-ORGANIZE! We must start from that point, which we were stopped! The preliminary step which I propose is the appointment of a General Secretary, pro tem; to whom nominations shall be sent preparatory to the election of an Executive; and as Mr. Wheeler has already filled that office during the absence of the late Secretary; and as he was elected by his own order, and discharged the duties to their satisfaction; I propose that he shall be the man; and that when the votes are to be taken for the Executive that a delegate shall be appointed from each Chartist district in London, to aid and assist him in making his return.

When an Executive is elected, they should, in my opinion, call a Conference of Delegates, to whom all Plans of Organization shall be submitted; for the purpose of agreeing upon such plan as shall best suit our position, and guard the body from any legal prosecution. That is, to digest and adopt a good sound, legal organization, by which the Executive, the local officers, and the members, shall be formed. This done, I shall make a bold dash to procure some central commodious building in London, as the property of the Association, as the centre and rallying point; the building to be used as I pointed out in a former letter upon Organization; for, rely upon it, that the Chartists body never will prosper until it has "head quarters;" and I know of no place so fitting as the Metropolis of the country. However that will be a subject to be hereafter submitted to any Conference that may be assembled. The election of an Executive is the first step; and one which is indispensable to our existence as a party.

WE FIND the "Complete Suffrage" men, as they call themselves, among the leaders of the anti-Corn Law League, and endeavoring more to divide the people with marked principles. It is high time that we should be up and doing! Above and before all, it is necessary, that we be on our guard against the machinations of villainous men, who are endeavoring to get us to get on another revolution! I have conversed with two or three, who were very nearly entrapped by those monsters. They proceed thus: they make their way into public houses in densely-populated localities; and, after sponging a quantity of stuff, ask those present, "if this would not be a good opportunity for raising wages, while so many soldiers have been drafted to Ireland?" and insinuate that "a revolution would be a powerful effect upon Irish politics." Now hear what I have to say! and as my advice, if followed in 1833, and in August last, would have spared you much sorrow as well as much money, you have a right to give it its due weight. I tell you, then, that THE OBJECT OF THESE RUFFIANS IS TO DESTROY US! and although they would be a powerful effect upon Irish politics, now hear what I have to say! and as my advice, if followed in 1833, and in August last, would have spared you much sorrow as well as much money, you have a right to give it its due weight. I tell you, then, that THE OBJECT OF THESE RUFFIANS IS TO DESTROY US! and although they would be a powerful effect upon Irish politics,

GLORIOUS DEMONSTRATION IN LEEDS IN FAVOUR OF IRELAND AND THE REPEAL OF THE LEGISLATIVE UNION.

On Monday, in accordance to previous announcement, the Democrats of Leeds held a public meeting in the Vicar's Croft, for the purpose of aiding the movement in Ireland to obtain a Repeal of the Legislative Union. Long before the appointed time for meeting, vast areas in front of the platform were crowded by great numbers of persons, and orderly demonstrators at once bespoke their feelings on the occasion. A little after seven o'clock, the speakers, Messrs. West, Ross, T. B. Smith, and several other gentlemen, appeared on the platform, upon the motion of Mr. Brook, Mr. Joseph Jones was called to the chair. The Chairman having read the placard calling the meeting, at once proceeded to business by introducing Mr. Ross, of Manchester, as the first speaker. His address was listened to with the most intense interest by the thousands who surrounded him. As an Englishman, his words carried conviction to the ears of his countrymen; and at the conclusion of his address he was honoured with the most rapturous and unbounded applause. Mr. West, of Hull, was next introduced to the meeting, and for more than two hours riveted the attention of the assembly upon the wretched condition of Ireland. It is impossible to do justice to his speech, unless conveyed in his own language. Mr. T. B. Smith next followed, and in a speech highly laudatory of the measures proposed, completed what the preceding speakers had so well begun. Mr. Beaumont moved, and Mr. Boothman seconded the first resolution:—

That it is the opinion of this meeting, that the inhabitants of this part of the United Kingdom called Ireland have been for many years subjected to the most unmerited hardships and merciless oppressions, against which evils no protection can be offered so long as the laws are made by the few, and administered by the many; and in order to afford a fair and full amount of justice to all classes of society, we are of opinion that Ireland merits, and that justice demands, the immediate and complete repeal of the Legislative Union. That it is the opinion of this meeting, that the present affairs of Ireland do not warrant the British Ministry to attempt to put down the mind of the people of Ireland by the means of such measures as the Arms Bill; believing that all such attempts are dangerous to every interest connected with our country, and directly opposed to the feelings and humanity of the human race. We are of opinion that Ireland is more than justified in seeking the Repeal of the Legislative Union, we, as Englishmen, offer our hearty and cordial assistance to the cause; and we respectfully urge, that upon the British Ministry to adopt such measures, as will at once enable them to restore tranquility to Ireland, and to repeal the present existing Act of Union.

The CHAIRMAN put it to the meeting, when it was carried unanimously amidst enthusiastic cheering. Mr. Brook then moved the following petition for presentation to the House of Commons. Mr. Joseph Briggs seconded it, and when put to the meeting, thousands of willing hands expressive of the feeling of the heart, were elevated in praise of the noble and patriotic spirit of the petitioners. To the Honourable the Commons of Great Britain and Ireland in Parliament assembled. The Petition of the Inhabitants of the borough of Leeds, in the county of York, in public meeting assembled, June 20th, 1843.

Sheweth, that your petitioners have long viewed with grief and deep regret, the various hardships and oppressions to which the inhabitants of that part of the United Kingdom, called Ireland, have been subjected for many years, which hardships and oppressions your petitioners believe to originate in class legislation, and also in the virtual non-representation of the Irish people in your Honourable House.

Your petitioners have beheld with extreme alarm and regret, the measures recently resorted to by her Majesty's Ministers for the suppression of the legal and peaceable agitation of the Repeal question in Ireland, believing, as your petitioners do, that the measures of a Repeal of the Legislative Union, and the salutary influence and fostering care of a domestic Legislature, fully and freely chosen by the whole people, can give satisfaction or prosperity to the long misgoverned portion of the British Empire.

Your petitioners humbly pray that your Honourable House will refuse its sanction to any bill or resolution which tends to the suppression of the Repeal cause; and that your petitioners pray that your Honourable House will, by any Member of your Honourable House, having for its object the restriction or abridgement of Irish liberty; and your petitioners further pray that your Honourable House will, by any Member of your Honourable House, pass an Act for the immediate Repeal of the Legislative Union now subsisting in name, but not conferring equal advantages as regards civil or religious privileges between the two countries, and your petitioners further pray that your Honourable House will, by any Member of your Honourable House, pass an Act for the immediate Repeal of the Legislative Union now subsisting in name, but not conferring equal advantages as regards civil or religious privileges between the two countries, and your petitioners further pray that your Honourable House will, by any Member of your Honourable House, pass an Act for the immediate Repeal of the Legislative Union now subsisting in name, but not conferring equal advantages as regards civil or religious privileges between the two countries,

Your petitioners further pray that your Honourable House will, by any Member of your Honourable House, pass an Act for the immediate Repeal of the Legislative Union now subsisting in name, but not conferring equal advantages as regards civil or religious privileges between the two countries, and your petitioners further pray that your Honourable House will, by any Member of your Honourable House, pass an Act for the immediate Repeal of the Legislative Union now subsisting in name, but not conferring equal advantages as regards civil or religious privileges between the two countries, and your petitioners further pray that your Honourable House will, by any Member of your Honourable House, pass an Act for the immediate Repeal of the Legislative Union now subsisting in name, but not conferring equal advantages as regards civil or religious privileges between the two countries,

MIDDLE-CLASS HONOUR AND HONESTY.

At the Mansion House Police Office, on Monday, the Captain of the Lion Steamer, which was stated to be the vessel of the Yarmouth Mackay Company, was summoned before the Lord Mayor for having on board the vessel a great deal of property in the Thames in great hazard, but endangering the lives of the passengers.

Mr. Hall, the wharfinger at the Custom House Quay, stated that in all his experience, he never heard of a more reckless and wanton act on the part of the crew of a vessel than that which was committed on board the vessel of the Yarmouth Mackay Company, on board, and the vessel was ordered to call the hands up at four o'clock in the morning. At two o'clock in the morning, the Lion came down the river, and instead of going in the direction of the Custom House Quay, she was ordered to call the hands up at four o'clock in the morning. PARISH OF ST. ALBAN'S.

The Lord Mayor, however, said, the 23rd by-law to which the solicitor pointed, referred to vessels in the condition in which the Gazette had been placed. The Attorney for the defendant then stated that the Lion had on the board the purpose of procuring any injury to the vessel, which had most improperly broken the law.

The Lord Mayor said he should like to hear evidence in justification of the act of the defendant. Robert Finner, mariner, and managing man on board the vessel, the Yarmouth Mackay Company, then stepped forward. He had been, he said, placed on board by the Company to see that the people on board did their duty, and he witnessed the transaction complained of by the Lord Mayor. He directed that his vessel, in consequence of the want of room to pass the vessel on the other side, should go inside, and called to the Lion to slack her hawsers and allow the Lion to proceed. The Captain of the Lion then certainly cut the hawsers and passed; and she had not done so considerably loss would have been incurred.

The Lord Mayor said he had been for thirty years, in the habit of trading upon the Thames, and he had not violated the regulations of the river during that time. If he had not cut the hawsers on the occasion stated, he would certainly have lost his mackerel voyage.

CHARTIST INTELLIGENCE.

SUNDERLAND.—Mr. Poesley delivered an excellent lecture on Monday night last, the subject of which was "The Repeal of the Corn Laws, and the Establishment of a National Bank." Mr. B. handled the question in a masterly style, and gave general satisfaction.

SOUTH SHIELDS.—Mr. Beesley lectured here on Tuesday evening, in the Market-place, Mr. Gillman in the chair. The subject was the Repeal of the Corn Laws, which he handled in a masterly style, and showed the fallacies of the humbering League in their true light. A vote of thanks was given to Mr. B. and the Chairman, after which the meeting separated.

NEWCASTLE.—Mr. Samuel Kydd of South Shields lectured on the Town Moor, on Sunday afternoon last, the subject of which was "The Repeal of the Corn Laws, and the Establishment of a National Bank." Mr. Kydd handled the question in a masterly style, and gave general satisfaction.

THE CHARTISTS OF NEWCASTLE AND GATEHEAD held their usual business meeting on Monday evening. Mr. Young in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, and confirmed. Mr. Frazer, shoemaker, Macfarlane's Bank, North Shields, took the seat as secretary. Mr. Sinclair read the answer which he had received from Mr. William Sharman Crawford, Esq., M.P., respecting the proposed Bill for the Repeal of the Legislative Union, which was highly satisfactory; that gentleman having considered it a pleasure to accede to the wishes of the petitioners.

ROCHEFORD.—On Sunday last, a camp meeting was held on Baginbala Common. The meeting was very respectable in numbers and very attentive. The speakers were Messrs. Mills, Chadwick, Wood, and Douglas. The latter of whom spoke chiefly upon the wrongs of Ireland and her present lamentable condition, contrasting the patriotism of Morris, Fitzgerald, the Knight of Kerry, and Arthur O'Connor. In the evening, Mr. Donovan lectured on the subject of the Repeal of the Corn Laws, and was well attended.

TROWBRIDGE.—According to notice on Monday evening last, a public meeting of the inhabitants of this town was held in the Democratic Hall, in the presence of Messrs. Cooper, Richards, and Capper, now undergoing the most cruel treatment in Stafford Gaol. Mr. Harding was unanimously elected to be the speaker. The subject of the meeting was stated by the object for which they had met, and concluded by introducing Mr. Payne, who gave a long and powerful address and moved the adoption of a petition calling for redress, which was seconded by Mr. Stevens and carried unanimously, after Mr. Hibbert had spoken in its support. The petition was entrusted to the care of Mr. Duncombe.

MANCHESTER.—At the conclusion of Mr. Gambley's Lecture, on Sunday evening, Mr. Carpenter's Hall, Mr. James Wheeler called to the chair, who stated that about four months ago a committee had been appointed for the purpose of promoting the Repeal of the Corn Laws, and that they had raised 240 shares had been taken, eighty-four of which were paid up; and that there was then £70 in the treasury's hands. He called upon Mr. Edward Clares, who, in a neat and glowing speech, moved the adoption of a petition calling for redress, which was seconded by Mr. Stevens and carried unanimously. We hope the Chartists of Manchester will follow up their resolutions by the erection of a building in which the pure doctrine of democracy may be taught to the adult and infantile population.

LONDON.—A public meeting will be held at the Britannia Fields, City-road, at six o'clock on Sunday evening next.

Mr. Bellwell will lecture on Sunday evening, at the Star, Golden-square, at eight o'clock.
