"THE CHARTER AND NO SURRENDER!" and, in spite of the calumny and opposition of open foes, and the detraction of professed friends to the cause, we shall continue to hold that standard up over all agitations, until the cheering shout of victory shall reverberate from shore to shore, and gladden the hearts of all who desire to see class legislation abolished, and the people in the full enjoyment of all their political and social rights.

"ONWARD AND WE CONQUER! BACKWARD AND WE FALL!"

The pressure of other important matter compels us to omit our usual commentary upon the proceedings in Parliament. It will be seen by reference to our summary of them, that this is no great loss, as they have been of the usual hum-drum character which marks the parliamentary reign of the Whigs.

men's crowns, and at once went down to the end of the hall in triumph. The shouts from the tribunes increased, and the people above let themselves down (perhaps forty feet) by the pillars to join their comrades below.

Barbes still remaining in the tribune, the crowd of people, all in boules, almost collected round the tribune, stretching out their hands to him with enthusiasm, and locking up to him as if with deliverer.

At this moment the reporters' gallery, which previously had been sparsely, was in its turn entered. Citizen Louis Blanc then got up on the tribune, and, after many efforts, obtained a hearing. Citizens said, 'I propose to you that this petition of the people, in favour of Poland, be read in the Assembly. (Tremendous shouts from the tribunes.) The people call in their force, and the petition ought to be read in the tribune, and this is not the case. The people have by their own voice, signed against their own sovereignty, (handed cheers and acclamations.)

Citizen Raspail then read the petition and the conclusion of some of the passages tremendous acclamations. Citizen Louis Blanc then proposed the petition concluded with the words 'Vive la Pologne!' and this cry was taken up with such a shout as I cannot find words to express to you—it came sharp, loud, and universal, like the discharge of a cannon shot, only lasting for a considerable time.
